Amicon Technologies Pvt. Ltd. was founded in 2004 with an objective to offer software development services of Open Source ERP frameworks. We have worked on multiple projects for US, UK and Australia-based clients. Our projects include award winning sites like Envelopes.com, SteinerSports.com, PexSupply.com.

Our Passion

We are a team of skilled consultants with multiple years of technical experience. We are growing aggressively and are very passionate about our work. We believe in teamwork and take high ownership in every project. We deliver high-quality services that eventually materialize to award-winning websites and highly-efficient solutions. We have a strong drive to succeed in everything we do.

Why We Love Open Source

Open Source is the imperative alternative to Proprietary solutions. Open Source has changed the world order. It has given small companies the competitive and affordable edge. We no longer have to develop a product for years but instead just leverage and extend the work collaboratively and help evolve and innovate. The best things in life are free and business owners should only pay, without being vendor prone, for what is required for their business to thrive.

Our Environment

We promote an environment that is conducive to learning and growth. We take our work as an art which requires endless perfection. We do not believe in having a boss who micro-manages instead have total faith in our employees who are self-driven and focused in getting the job done immaculately. We believe in continuous improvement and believe that this is just a beginning for us on the long road of success.
